President’s Message

The First Day of School

The beginning of the school year has always been an exhilarating time of anticipation for me. I love the excitement around the campus as faculty and staff prepare to welcome new students who are anxious about their new adventures as well as returning students who are looking forward to getting back to campus and into familiar routines.

This year, the first day of August was my first day of school; a new beginning for me and my family and a new beginning for Gwynedd Mercy University as I began my tenure as the sixth President of this wonderful institution. Since that first day, I’ve met many new friends and experienced many other new beginnings. The common thread woven throughout every interaction has been the high level of commitment to the mission and core values of Gwynedd Mercy University.

I am continually inspired by our students and their understanding of how to be a global citizen in the world today. They spend time inside and outside of their classes working on many social justice issues and raising funds for many organizations working to help those who are most vulnerable. Our alumni have built impressive successful careers and meaningful lives, remaining true to their Distinctive Mercy Education.

As you read this President’s Report, you will see examples of how our lived mission and core values are expressed in different ways from many members of our community. This report also highlights the commitment of all of you who continue to provide support in so many ways to ensure that our students are given the opportunities to prepare for successful careers and meaningful lives. On behalf of the entire Gwynedd Mercy University community, I thank you for your generosity, for your support, and for welcoming me and my family to the GMercyU community!

YEAR IN REVIEW
When one thinks of a traditional college freshman, an experienced professional with more than 15 years of experience doesn’t typically come to mind. Pamela Morrone was a clinical chemist working at Allegheny General Hospital in Pittsburgh when she moved to the Philadelphia area with her then-fiancé, now-husband Michael Morrone. It was then she realized she wanted to try something new.

Pamela attended a GMercyU Open House, where she originally was interested in being a perfusionist nurse, but as that type of treatment was beginning to be phased out, she thought better of it. She started working at Quest Diagnostics when she realized nursing was the profession she was meant to pursue. GMercyU seemed to be the obvious choice but what sealed the deal was a talk with her husband.

Soon she became immersed in her studies, attending lectures and clinicals all while juggling home and family responsibilities. Because of her prior experience, Pamela even found herself tutoring her fellow classmates. After graduating in 2003, Pamela knew she wanted to do more. As a non-traditional student, she saw first-hand what some of her peers were going through and wanted to help.

“I told my husband after I graduated that we can really help people in this venue because there aren’t many scholarships for non-traditional students.”

“I heard the struggles they were going through with maintaining their homes and the money involved in that,” Pamela said.

The Morrones set up two scholarships geared towards non-traditional nursing students, the John J. Morrone Nursing Merit Award and the John S. Morrone Memorial Scholarship in honor of Michael’s father and brother who have passed away.

The couple is still actively involved in the GMercyU community. Pamela is a member of the Nursing Advisory Board and was an integral part of planning the 50th anniversary of the Frances M. Maguire School of Nursing and Health Professions. Pamela and Michael were inducted into the Founder’s Society in 2015, which honors donors who have contributed $50,000 or more in lifetime gifts to GMercyU.
The GMercyU Difference

Gwynedd Mercy University is a community of learners, leaders, helpers and doers. Our caring, compassionate and supportive environment is a direct reflection of our Mercy mission and tradition.

Gwynedd Mercy University is rooted in the Mercy values of integrity, respect, service, and social justice—all of which are carried out through our Distinctive Mercy Graduates. Alyssa Walters ’08, an active member of the GMercyU community during her time on campus, continues to spread Mercy in all she does. Whether it’s serving as the President of the Alumni Association Board or as the founder of her own company, the Mercy tradition of serving others is at the foundation of all Alyssa does.
Alyssa started her career with the Department of Defense after graduating from GMercyU and then quickly earned her MBA from St. Leo University in 2010. As a Supervisory Auditor, Alyssa oversees the audits of Fortune 500 companies that have contracts with the Department. She is also the founder of the Modern Essentials Group, as well as a speaker and Essential Oil Expert. She locks arms with and trains women who are looking for a purpose-driven career selling essential oils and serving their communities. Alyssa developed a network of more than 1000 families, many of whom are from the GMercyU community. Continue to follow Alyssa’s journey on Instagram @modernessentialsgroup.
Although new to Gwynedd Mercy University, President Deanne H. D’Emilio, JD is no stranger to Mercy. Prior to beginning her tenure as GMercyU’s sixth president, President D’Emilio spent more than 19 years in various roles at Mount Aloysius College and Carlow University, both Mercy-sponsored institutions. The values and mission that lie at the heart of the Mercy tradition are what brought President D’Emilio to GMercyU, and what serve as her guide as she moves the University forward.

Here, President D’Emilio sits down to tell us a little more about herself and what she’s been up to since arriving this summer.

What attracted you to Gwynedd Mercy University?

First and foremost, the Catholic/Mercy mission and the history and heritage of the Sisters of Mercy. Also, I’m a big believer in and strong advocate for education. It is the gateway out of poverty and critical for an informed citizenry. As we consider some of the narrative, incivility and violence in our country and around the world, an education grounded in Catholic and Mercy values is the antidote. In addition, I am excited about the opportunity to lead an institution that espouses respect for the dignity of all human beings and values the liberal arts. Those are closely aligned with my own values and to lead an institution that emphasizes these values and graduates students who can go out and not only do well for themselves but do well for society is an exciting opportunity.

President, Gwynedd Mercy University (2017)
What has been the biggest surprise since coming to GMercyU?

I’ve been very surprised by the amount of sunshine here. It’s a welcome surprise! It’s much sunnier here than it is in western Pennsylvania. I have noticed it significantly. So has my husband who grew up on the East Coast on Long Island and has always commented on the lack of sunshine in western Pennsylvania.

What are you most excited about?

I’m excited about really building on the potential that is here at GMercyU. The first thing to build upon is really looking at strategic planning and what we can do to move the needle to reach the goals that we want to reach.

How have you been spending the last few months since arriving?

I’ve been listening a lot, just learning. I’ve been really soaking in as much as I can about this community, the people, the Board [of Trustees], the community surrounding the institution. I’ve been getting acclimated to the culture and learning about people’s hopes and dreams for the institution.

What are the next steps?

The next few steps will really be a lot of planning and communicating for how to do a strategic plan well. It needs to be a living, breathing document that really guides our work in a concrete way so that we can measure if we are truly making progress in areas we agreed we want to make progress in.

We’re in a very competitive, challenging market so we have to be attentive to really saying that we achieve the goals we want to achieve and if we aren’t doing that, to change course and not wait.

I obviously have to also think about outside of the campus, making sure we have relationships with the community, alumni, donors, and that people understand all of the good that is happening here and could happen here.

What is something people might not know about you?

In 8th grade, I was the captain of a team that was on a TV show called Junior High Quiz. That was fun. We competed against other eighth grade teams. It was a quiz show on WTAV Channel 4 in Pittsburgh. I remember being in the studio and the camera light going on. We got a $5 check in the mail. Big money in those days!
Annual Fund Gifts Make a Lasting Impact

The Annual Fund is one of Gwynedd Mercy University's most important sources of support that can be applied to an area of essential need, including student scholarships, operational expenses and academic programming.

For today's students, receiving private support is more critical than ever to achieving academic and career goals. Scholarships remain one of the most significant resources we offer our students. Last year, Gwynedd Mercy University awarded $18.5 million in scholarships, with approximately 99% of eligible students receiving some type of institutional aid. Your Annual Fund gift helped to meet that need and reinforces our commitment to provide students with an affordable, high-quality, Catholic education that upholds the Mercy mission of service to others.

In addition to student scholarships, your Annual Fund contributions benefit the entire Gwynedd Mercy University community. Campus enhancements over the past year included creating a 60 student classroom in Mercy Hall, refurbishing of the floor and stairwell in the Waldron Center; and painting the exteriors of Julia Ball Auditorium, St. Bernard Hall, Campbell Hall, Fatima Hall and Mercy Hall.

Every gift, no matter the size, has the potential to make a difference in the lives of our students and positively impacts the future of our University. Thank you for your continued generosity and support of Gwynedd Mercy University. For more information, please contact Director of Annual Giving Mia McGlynn at mcglynn.m@gmercyu.edu or 215-641-5568.

“I, [name], of [city, state, zip], give, devise and bequeath to Gwynedd Mercy University [written amount or percentage of the estate or description of property] for its unrestricted use and purpose.”

This simple sentence added to your will allows you to make a meaningful impact on our students for years to come. Please consider joining the Mother Mary Bernard Graham Society by designating GMercyU as a beneficiary to your estate.
